Presidents Letter

It is with great joy we prepare for the end of 2020. There are so many unpleasant things to think about, and for some, bad memories. During these last trying days, we also need to prepare our minds for the new year. I would like to reflect on some of the things we've learned in the past months.

We have learned to hug our loved ones just a little bit tighter. A little bit longer. We have learned the importance of sharing. Doing things for other people is definitely the way to make yourself feel good. We've learned one moment in time can change a life. We've learned the value of a hug, even from a stranger. Most importantly we are reminded that life is precious.

I hope we all move into the new year with a renewed outlook. Focus on positive feelings. Reach out to someone in need, or TO someone for your needs. 2020 has certainly been a storm, but as we all know..."Not all storms come to destroy our lives. Some come to clear our path."

I wish you all a Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays. I will pray we all have a healthy, Happy New Year.

prepare pipes for winter

Colder conditions in the fall and approaching winter months introduce a new set of concerns for homeowners.

When temperatures begin to drop, pipes begin to freeze and possibly burst, causing flooding and costly water damage if preventive measures are not taken in homes.

How can you reduce and eliminate the risk of frozen pipes and other cold-weather threats? Below are a few tips to follow:

- Disconnect and drain the garden hose connection before the weather turns cold.
- If your water meter pipes have frozen in the past, wrap them in commercial insulation or heat tape available at hardware stores.
- If you plan to be away for an extended period of time, set the thermostat to a minimal heat setting to help protect pipes from freezing.
- Make sure the shut-off valves on either side of the water meter are working properly.
- Place a tag on the main shut-off valve and make sure everyone knows how to operate it in case of an emergency.

Women's Club

Hello everyone. I hope you are all doing okay and that you had a safe and healthy Thanksgiving.

Thank you to those members who collected items for Your Grandmother's Cupboard. I know they are always very grateful for the donations they receive.

Please remember the other fundraisers in the village for Toys for Tots, the Food Drive, and Remember the Animals. It is always good to remember those less fortunate especially during the holiday season.

Please keep a watchful eye on neighbors that don't have families checking on them. If there is anything I can do, please don't hesitate to let me know.

The Board and I wish you all a safe and healthy Christmas and New Year.

We are looking forward to seeing you as soon as possible. Please contact me if you have any questions.

*Kathy Sullivan,
President 732-261-8893*

Resident's Club

Hello Everyone.

As we come to the end of the year, let us all reflect and be thankful on how lucky we are to be here and pray for all those who we have lost. We all miss not having a Christmas Tree Festival this year, but hopefully next year we can go back to having many of the activities and events that we enjoy. No Christmas Caroling this year as we had hoped, only very few people showed an interest. Maybe next year.

Be well and stay safe.

Wishing all a Merry Christmas, Happy Hanukkah, Happy Kwanzaa and a very Happy and Healthy New Year.

Sara Ritterbusch, President

Day of Infamy Speech

President Franklin D. Roosevelt's Speech to Congress on December 8, 1941

By Jennifer Rosenberg

At 12:30 p.m. on December 8, 1941, U.S. President Franklin D. Roosevelt stood before Congress and gave what is now known as his "Day of Infamy" or Pearl Harbor" speech. This speech was given only a day following the Empire of Japan's strike on the United States naval base at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii and the Japanese declaration of war on the United States and the British Empire.

The Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, Hawaii shocked almost everyone in the United States military and left Pearl Harbor vulnerable and unprepared. Roosevelt declared December 7, 1941, the day that the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor, would remain "a date which will live in infamy." The word derives from the root word fame, and translates roughly to "fame gone bad." Infamy, in this case, also meant strong condemnation and public approach due to the result of Japan's conduct. The particular line of infamy from Roosevelt has become so famous that it is hard to believe the first draft written as "a date which will live in world history."

The nation was divided on entering the second war until the attack on Pearl Harbor occurred. This had everyone united against the Empire of Japan in remembrance and support of Pearl Harbor. At the end of the speech, Roosevelt asked Congress to declare war against Japan and his request was granted that same day. Because Congress immediately declared war, the United States subsequently entered World War II officially. Official declarations of war must be done by Congress, who have the sole power to declare war and have done so on 11 total occasions since 1812. The last formal declaration of war was World War II.

"Mr. Vice President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Senate, and of the House of Representatives: Yesterday, December 7th 1941--a date which will live in infamy--the United States of America was suddenly and deliberately attacked by naval and air forces of the Empire of Japan.

The United States was at peace with that nation and, at the solicitation of Japan, was still in conversation with its government and its emperor looking toward the maintenance of peace in the Pacific. Indeed, one hour after Japanese air squadrons had commenced bombing in the American island of Oahu, the Japanese ambassador to the United States and his colleague delivered to our Secretary of State a formal reply to a recent American message. And while this reply stated that it seemed useless to continue the exiting message. And while this reply stated that it seemed useless to continue the exiting diplomatic negotiations, it contained no threat or hint of war or of armed attack.

It will be recorded that the distance of Hawaii from Japan makes it obvious that the attack was deliberately planned many days or even weeks ago. During the intervening time, the Japanese government has deliberately sought to deceive the United States by false statement and expressions of hope for continued peace. The attack yesterday on the Hawaiian islands has caused severe damage to American naval and military forces. I regret to tell you that very many American lives have been lost. In addition, American ships have been reported torpedoed on the high seas between San Francisco and Honolulu. Yesterday, the Japanese government also launched an attack against Malaya, last night, Japanese forces attacked Hong Kong, last night, Japanese forces attacked Guam, last night, Japanese forces attacked the Philippine Islands, Last nigh, the Japanese attacked Wake Island and this morning, the Japanese attacked Midway Island. Japan has, therefore, undertaken a surprise offensive extending throughout the Pacific area. The facts of yesterday and today speak for themselves. The people of the United States have already formed their opinions and well understood the implication to the very life and safety of our nation.

As commander in chief of the Army and Navy, I have directed that all measures be taken for our defense. But always will our whole nation remember the character of the onslaught against us. No matter how long it might take us to overcome this premeditated invasion, the American people in their righteous might will win through to absolute victory. I believe that I interpret the will of the Congress and of the people when I assert that we will not only defend ourselves to the uttermost, but will make it very certain that this form of treachery shall never again endanger us. Hostilities exist. there is no blinking at the fact that our people, our territory, and our interest are in grave danger. With confidence in our armed forces, with the rebounding determination of our people, we will gain the inevitable triumph--so help us God.

I ask that the Congress declare that since the unprovoked and dastardly attack by Japan on Sunday, December 7th, 1941, a state of war has existed between the United States and the Japanese empire.
